PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY BALL JANUARY 30

STATE W. P. A. LIBRARY ASS'N. OF MISS. TO HOLD MEETING IN CITY TODAY

Miss Alexander, District Director Libraries To Discuss Important Matters—Distinguished Speakers to Be Present—From 10 A. M. to 3:30 Afternoon

The W. P. A. Library Association of Mississippi will hold an official meeting in the Hancock County Free Library rooms on the morning of Friday, January 24, at 10 a. m., continuing until 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Miss Alexander, District Director of Libraries, will discuss at length important matters in free library management. Dr. Deen, District Representative of the National Youth Administration, will be among the distinguished guest speakers present. Mrs. Caroline Dale Snedeker will give one of her delightful talks on books. Four counties, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River, will send representatives to the meeting, which will be the first of a series to study free library affairs. The meeting will be confined to persons directly concerned.

A present of lumber to build shelves to hold the large gift of books received recently from the Cincinnati Public Library has been made to the Hancock County Free Library by the Administrators of Hancock County.

Four books for young people have been sent in by Blanche Gordon and four by Mrs. Weeks.

The Review of the Month Club will hold its February meeting on the twelfth day of the month at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. A reception and tea will follow an unusually interesting program on which Mrs. Caroline Dale Snedeker will review her own most recent work, "Uncharted Ways." The club cordially invites all friends of the library and everyone who enjoyed the anniversary tea last year to be present.

The blast of the fire siren, early in the morning one day last week, reminded us of an artistic-temperament story told us a year or so ago by the Irish poet Peter Gething. A fire call went out, in the city in which he lived, from the home of those married authors, Mr. and Mrs. Clements Ripley (he has done some noteworthy work for the Cosmopolitan Magazine and she wrote Sand In My Shoes). The poet, a close friend of both, went to see if he could help. Rushing in through the front door he was anteduced to see from the stairs and Mrs. Ripley herself walking up and down the library dictating to her secretary.

"But," cried the anxious Britisher, "do you know your home is on fire?"

"Oh, yes," said the unruffled novelist, "it's in the attic. Somebody else will see about it."

We wish now and then we had asked what brand of cigarette she was smoking.

LODWICK DWELLING BURNS

Home Nicholson Avenue
Total Loss Monday Night
From Fire of Unknown Origin

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the new and handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lodwick, Nicholson avenue, near beach front, before midnight Monday night. Bay St. Louis fire department promptly responded to the alarm but because Waveland has no water connection for fire extinguishing purpose and for further reason tide water was way out the engine was unable to serve. However, the fire crew aided in other ways.

All house furnishings and other household effects were saved and Mr. and Mrs. Lodwick moved across the street into one of the Siler properties where they are domiciled temporarily with Mr. and Mrs. A. S. McQueen. The building was partially insured for $2500. Mrs. Lodwick had returned home a few days ago from Touro Infirmary, where she had been several weeks suffering from an injured neck, sustained in an automobile accident, and was at home with Mr. Lodwick, when they discovered the dwelling was on fire overhead. No definite reason is assigned as cause.

The dwelling was practically new, built only a few years ago by the late Captain White and purchased about a year or more ago by the Lodwicks.

Amount of insurance is comparatively small as the loss is variously estimated from $5000 to $6,000. While the furniture saved considerable of it was damaged.

It appears Mr. and Mrs. Lodwick had retired for the night, when the odor of smoke and noise overhead indicated the house was on fire. Neighbors who saw the blaze say had water been at hand the place could have been saved. Even at that every effort was exerted, but finally the flames gaining such headway, it was decided to abandon all effort at saving the building and the moving of furniture and belongings continued in earnest.

At this writing, Mr. and Mrs. Lodwick were planning to lease one of the Siler houses across the street from their own place until such time they could be permanently settled.

King's Daughters' Hospital News Items

Miss Ida Edwards, professional nurse, accompanied her and will remain indefinitely. Mrs. Young continues a patient at the Gulfport hospital.

FRUIT COMPANY FAILS IN MOTION TO SHIFT CASE TO FED. COURT

Suit of Mrs. Evelyn Hunt
Conner of Bay St. Louis
To Remain in Hancock County Courts

A petition for the removal to federal courts of the suit of Mrs. Evelyn Hunt Conner of Bay St. Louis, Miss., against the Standard Fruit and Steamship Corporation of Delaware, principal offices of which are in New Orleans, was denied Friday by Chancellor D. M. Russell of Gulfport at the close of a hearing in regular term of chancery court in Bay St. Louis and jurisdiction of the case was retained in the chancery court of Hancock county.

Further proceedings in the case will come before Chancellor Russell at Bay St. Louis, where the suit first came to public notice last August.

The corporation was one of a group of defendants to the original suit, which named a large number of alleged subsidiary fruit and transportation corporations, several domiciled in South and Central America, and about a dozen railroad companies.

Large shipments of bananas were reported to the chancery clerk at Bay St. Louis as caught by the proceedings in garnishment under the suit, but fruit was permitted to proceed to destination by the railroad companies. The Illinois Central system and the Louisville and Nashville railroad were among the largest carriers of the banana cargoes. Cash in railroad offices due in settlement of accounts with the fruit company also was impounded under garnishment.

Mrs. Conner based her claim against the fruit corporation upon her holdings of preferred stock in the original or parent corporation of the Standard's alleged chain of companies, holding that she never had surrendered or turned in the stock which she bought in the initial corporation, had not consented to exchange of the stock for stock in a new corporation and still was due dividends on her original allotment of stock for the several years since formation of the parent company.

The Standard Company Friday was the only one of the numerous defendants who petitioned removal of the case to the federal district court of Southern Mississippi, normally sitting at Biloxi and its action was resisted by Mrs. Conner by demurrer against the petition. Under the decree of the Court holding that the case was not removable, the respondent will be required to answer the suit in the State court and go to trial at the next term of court in this county.

COUPLE BEFRIENDED CAUGHT FLEEING OVER BRIDGE AFTER THEFT

Mrs. Eugene Joyner housed an itinerant couple one night this week at her private, rooming house in Main street, receiving them more through kindness than for the small sum she charged which hardly takes care of the cost of laundry. The next morning, voluntarily offering the man and woman a cup of coffee in order they might be made to feel comfortable and continue their journey, after giving her a hard story the night previously, she found the birds had flown and with them her bed covering as well. A search failed to reveal their whereabouts. She immediately communicated with the city police department and the couple was apprehended walking over the Bay auto and pedestrian bridge. They were arrested and the stolen articles recovered. Mrs. Joyner did not wish to press the charges and asked they be released. They were ordered to leave the city, which they did without tarrying. This story obviously carries a moral.

Beach Summer Home Destroyed By Fire

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the summer home of John Ramoneda, on the beach near the Bay Waveland, dividing line Monday morning, partially covered by insurance.

Mr. Ramoneda was in New Orleans for the winter and the house was unoccupied. The opinion is expressed that tramps used the premises and possibly are responsible for the fire.

POLICE TO KILL ALL STRAY DOGS

Measure Necessary for Protection of Children and Public Generally

As a precautionary measure the Mayor, City Commissioners and Police Department of Bay St. Louis, will strictly enforce an ordinance prohibiting the roaming of dogs over the city streets, by dealing seriously with all dogs found without muzzles.

During the past thirty days at least four persons have been bitten by dogs showing signs of having rabies. The heads of two such dogs killed have been sent for examinations and report of the findings are eagerly awaited.

Mayor Blaize and associates intend to enforce the ordinance to the limit and have instructed police officers to kill any such animals found without muzzles.

Several bird dogs and other pets have been bitten recently and are under surveillance. Especially in the section of the Central School have dogs been found presumably to have rabies and three school children have been victims of such bites. Treatment has been given them.

"The killing of all such dogs will be strictly enforced," said Chief of Police Wm. Hobbs and every effort

YOUNG CHILD OF NEVILLE CHOINA IS VICTIM OF BURNS

Doris Choina, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neville Choina, residing on the side street adjoining the C. McDonald's place of business, was the victim of a painful mishap, sustaining serious burns about head and body.

It appears the little girl was near the kitchen stove during the cold spell of the early part of the week, while a pot of beans was in process of cooking. While a stick of wood was placed in the fire box of the stove, the end of the wood protruded through the hole over which the pot was set and caused it to turn over with its boiling contents which fell on the head of the child.

It was found the head and forehead had been severely burned as well as the arms, particularly the right one. The child is at its grandmother's receiving medical attention and is in a pitiful plight to say nothing of suffering. Dr. Hall is in attendance and Doris is due to get well in due time, it was said.

will be exerted to protect the public from this dreaded disease.

Owners of dogs are warned to keep same locked in or they will be killed on sight.

Elsewhere in this issue of The Echo will be found a notice by the Mayor and City Commissioners warning owners and providing for strict enforcement of the law.

If you have a good hunting dog or pet keep him muzzled or fenced in and by so doing you will save his life and probably protect many people who might be innocent victims of rabies.

WEEK-END RAINS DAMAGE PART OF SHORTCUT ROUTE

Heavy Trucks Sink Thru Hard-Surface Saturday Night — Parts Will Have To Be Re-surfaced.

Heavy rains of last week-end damaged the surface of the Shortcut route to New Orleans to a considerable extent. On this side of Pearl River, the several curves at Pearl River, has lost all of its smoothness and traveling is "rocky." It is evident this section will have to be resurfaced and the same condition exists at the far west end of the road, near Rigolets bridge.

Sturdy night a heavy freight truck was "stuck" near the Rigolets end, a rear wheel of the vehicle, going through the hard-surfaced top and held fast in the sand below. "There are one of three things," said a seeming authority on such matters, "the roadway was possibly opened to public use too early; top surfacing is too thin or else the sub-foundation remains unsettled and is faulty."

However, the "cut" is passable, the larger portion in fine condition and traffic is heavy, despite the inclement weather of the past.

Travelers cannot but admire the beautiful bridges thru the "cut" two of the draw type and three stationary, of steel and concrete construction. New highway cut saves traveler an hour over the former way.

By W. D. ROBINSON To The Sea Coast Echo.

Pass Christian now owns a public park large enough to accommodate the city's needs. The first step toward acquiring land for park purposes was taken in the spring of 1933, when Horace White, New Orleans, owner of the Roseheart subdivision on Minge avenue, was induced to donate about twelve acres of land to the city.

Recently the city acquired from the State of Mississippi thirty-two acres of land adjoining the property donated by Mr. White. This tract was sold for taxes by both the State and the city in 1932. The three-year redemption period having expired without the former owners exercising their right to redeem it, the land became the property of the state and city.

At the request of the city, the State issued a patent for the land to the city of Pass Christian, thereby making the city the sole owner. The State granted the patent for a small sum of money because the land is to be used for the benefit of the public.

The twelve acres donated by Horace White and the thirty-two acres transferred to the city by the State makes a total of forty-four acres in the park. Minge avenue, a paved thoroughfare, runs through the park, making the grounds easily accessible to the public.

Bayou Johnson flows through the park. The land south of the bayou contains a large grove of trees with ample shade for picnic and public gatherings. North of the bayou is a level stretch of land suitable for a baseball field. Sufficient space is available in the park for picnic grounds, a nine-hole golf course, a miniature golf course, tennis court, zoological garden. In addition to that, the bayou is available for fishing and boating parties.

Application has been made to the Federal government for funds to clean up the park and to construct a system of roads thru the grounds. If the funds can be secured, the park will become an attractive pleasure resort.

Pass Christian has long needed a park. The land south of the bayou in the past to furnish picnic grounds for large parties from a distance, but could not accommodate them. A few years ago a thousand or more employees of the Standard Oil Company at Baton Rouge, La., wanted to hold a week-end picnic at Pass Christian, but they could not be accommodated because no park was available.

Major baseball teams spend the winter and early spring months in the South for training purposes. With a baseball field, Pass Christian could get one of the big league clubs every season. Now that the city owns land available for baseball purposes, it is up to the citizens to find ways and means to provide ball grounds.

A baseball field not only would attract the major league teams but it would supply a place for Gulf Coast and local clubs to play ball. Baseball is a clean, healthy sport. It should be encouraged. Pass Christian has material for a local team and the city ought to have one.

SUCCESS OF SERVICE CLUBS

THE amazing growth of the various service clubs, which are rapidly spreading throughout the world, indicates that these organizations supply a need that exists among men everywhere.

In Bay St. Louis this has been well proven. Our chief service and only luncheon club, Rotary, in tenth year of existence, has well proven its worth in more ways than one. Rotary has justly taken claim for the initiation of many of the major improvements that the city today enjoys. This has been accomplished by suggesting and sponsoring various moves, after which the county and city powers that be gave official sanction and supplied the machinery and finances for accomplishment. A review of our Rotary Club's activities over a period of ten years would reveal an amazing result of enterprise, energy and initiation.

Our people should not dismiss Rotary, as well as Lions, Civitans, Kiwanis or other groups as they exist elsewhere from their minds with the curt thought that they represent only an association of eating men.

There is much more to the club idea than this. True enough, the meal hour is taken as the time for busy men to get together and enjoy the company of other men. Through regular association the members widen the circle of their friends, which, standing alone, is worth what the clubs cost.

More than formation of friendship, however, attends such group associations. Gradually comes the consciousness of other duties to be performed in life, including an appreciation of civic obligations and the contribution that each individual must make, through personal application, to the great problems that surround any growing municipality.

Our own Rotary club in Bay St. Louis has enkindled a broader understanding of human problems and the growth of tolerance through mutual esteem. Our citizens have in many instances become better acquainted. This is especially true.

Various clubs work, almost miraculously, to create good feeling, and friendly co-operative effort for common goals. This is not the labored act of directed puppets but the genuine expression of a feeling of brotherhood that is dormant in so many human beings.

Here, then, we believe, is an avenue for progress, a vehicle for personal advance and the power for moving a community along the right direction.

And The Echo expresses the hope that our own Rotary Club may long continue to function and give this section benefit of the fellowship of the luncheon and civic club.

This will be quite a year for the politicians—until the election anyway.

The way to stop automobile accident deaths is to stop accidents; the way to do this is to punish those guilty of careless operation of motor vehicles or negligent in walking on the highways.

NO MORE COMPLIMENTARY SUBSCRIPTIONS

THIS is another election year. Candidates will again be mingling with voters and the press specially. It is surprising how friendly certain candidates become with the press and expect so much gratis work when the aforesaid candidate is never willing to pay nor is he, in most cases, not even a subscriber. We have men in public office today who expect the press to take paramount interest in their candidacy when they never think of how useful and influential is the newspaper until they need it.

But the press of today is far from the press of yesterday. The newspaper of today is operated under a well organized business system and functions strictly on the pay plan, always giving full value for pay received. The newspaper might be the public servant of the people but far from the flunkie of the candidate. The public official today is a man who gives full value and receives pay therefor.

It was a custom in what some term the good old days for newspapers to exchange with one another, each sending to the other their own publication complimentary. Even though a custom ever since the memory of man, this no longer exists. And this will be news to many readers and others. Newspapers today pay for "exchange" newspaper, each publisher charging the other for his respective publication. In some instances, however, there are personal friendly relations, the exchange courtesy exists, but it is rather the exception than the rule.

The complimentary subscription is a thing of the past. So is the day gone for the candidate who is a grafter for space. This applies to the candidate over district and State, and nationally as well. The latter are the biggest would-be grafter.

Newspapers must pay cash for what they get. And it is a poor rule that fails to work both ways.

It's about time for the baseball fans to begin claiming the 1936 pennant for the home team.

How many citizens of Hancock county have any idea of what books their children study in school?

COAST HIGHWAY DANGEROUSLY NARROW

THERE is no highway in the entire State of Mississippi more important than that skirting the shores and seawall of the Gulf Coast. Important to three States of immediate territory, Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama, and as well to other States since this route is the trunk line for the nation en route from East to the Pacific Coast.

The Coast Highway has become congested. It is used by tourist and local travelers and in addition it is the highway used as main artery by freight and heaviest of transport vans to and fro. All night long and frequently during the day the heaviest tonnage passes onward. And all of this over a roadway that has become dangerously narrow. A hazard to drivers and a menace to the public.

With forty million dollars to spend for roadway and highway it is hoped Harrison county will be successful in an effort to bring about sufficient pressure to bear in order the Gulf Coast highway may be widened to double its present width and resurfacing that will take away many bumps and humps that make it anything but pleasant for those who ride on the back seat.

This roadway in its infancy was adequate. But the builders did not build well nor wisely. They built for the then present, little thinking of the future that was so close to follow. This roadway from one end of the Coast to the other should be a thing of beauty and joy forever.

The Shortcut with its heavy outflow from New Orleans of traffic is going to overflow the coast highway and how this comparatively narrow lane is going to take care of travel exceeds even an imagination.

We look to Governor White and the Highway Commissioners for relief.

And it might be well to regulate freight traffic that was never intended to use this highway when it was built.

WAVELAND IS BUILDING

VAST possibilities of Waveland as a resort are fast developing and it is with a sense of appreciation of Waveland's natural beauty and scenic and healthful advantages that one sees evidences on all sides of new improvement.

There has been more building in Waveland, compared to other sections of similar area and over same period than any other point along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Waveland has the distinct advantage of facing the waters of the Gulf of Mexico and its proximity to New Orleans is a value when commuters in particular reckon with time morning and evening, to say nothing of visitors who go to and fro at various time thru season.

There has not been a building boom in Waveland but in actual construction more dwellings and property remodeled and renovated than ordinarily happens. This is an unfailing evidence and a sign that must not be lost sight of. It means really values are gradually enhancing and more people are coming to Waveland season after season.

A survey of building operations, the last year or two, and more so the last six months, reveals the fact Waveland is fast coming into its own. More people from New Orleans are building homes, others purchasing, and making the resort their favorite place of residence.

The wise holder of Waveland realty must well realize this. With New Orleans to the west and Bay St. Louis to the immediate east, with its various institutions of learning and churches, in addition to that of Waveland, there is advantage not to be lost sight of. For health's sake this section stands supreme. It is undeniably the place for young children to grow and thrive, a priceless privilege.

MISSISSIPPI'S GOVERNOR

HUGH L. WHITE was inaugurated governor of the great State of Mississippi Tuesday at the State Capital. There were all the pageantry and eclat that goes with an affair of such dignity becoming the majesty of the State. Citizens from all parts of the State rallied to Jackson and by their presence paid tribute to the incoming administration.

From the daily press we learn it was a day of ideal weather, every meteorological element seemingly having conspired for the day. The city was bedecked with hunting and color. The parade was colorful and the inaugural ball at night fittingly climaxed the close of the day with all brilliancy possible.

Mississippi is especially fortunate to have elected such a man for Governor as Hugh L. White. Our State has long felt the need of a business administration, the attention from one who plans to industrialize the State; to bring more factories and all industry that will make both for the constructive and for pay-rolls.

It has been frequently pointed out that Mississippi with its splendid educational institutions for higher education and training turn out thousands of young men and women especially fitted for tasks requiring skill and training. When the youth is turned out as finished product he has to leave his own native health for work.

We are expecting a mighty heap from our new Governor and The Echo is of the firm conviction that Hugh L. White is not going to disappoint neither friend nor political foe.

He is going to be governor for all the people and a sound and sane administration is going to be the result, with our State revitalized and economic conditions regenerated.

FINANCIAL ADVICE FOR 1936

IT is not particularly our business, but inasmuch as an editor is supposed to offer gratuitous suggestions along many lines, we decide to urge our readers to start saving some money in 1936.

There are many men in Bay St. Louis today, who are old and nearly broke, because they always intended to begin saving "next year." They always figured that their prospects were so bright that "in a year or two" they could put it in the bank in hunkies!

The main lesson for young couples to learn, since it is too late for the older ones to profit

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

AND SUCH IS FAME

(West Point Times-Leader)
HERE'S the Main Street slant on the big boys who draw the fat salaries in this newspaper profession of ours. We quote from the Ruleville Record:

Think of it, ye country editors, William Randolph Hearst draws a salary of $500,000 a year, and he is just an onery cuss and you do well if you draw $25 per week. Your editorials are far better than his, too. Yours have a power and kick and carry an influence, while Hearst thinks his writings yield an influence over the Union.

A guy by the name of Frank Knox, a Republican newspaper man of Chicago, draws a salary of 75,000 bucks for editing a mediocre paper, thinks he is a candidate for President of the United States on the Republican ticket. That party does a plenty of knocking without adding another Knox.

The truth of the matter is that Mr. Hearst doesn't attempt to write at all. His father left him a moribund newspaper and a few million dollars. He now owns more than twenty metropolitan dailies and is rated at several hundred millions—perhaps because he had sense enough to hire good men to do his writing. Brisbane, his chief editorial writer, is said to receive a salary of $75,000 a year, and others are paid almost as much.

So much for Hearst, whom the Record rates as a $25.00 a week man.

Frank Knox, of the Chicago Daily News, is a different type. He was born poor—and remained poor for many years. His climb to newspaper success was painfully slow, and men of less courage would have given up the struggle, to float with the flotsam of the human tide. And the Chicago Daily News isn't a "mediocre paper," as the Ruleville Record would have you believe. As a matter of fact it ranks among the greatest newspapers in the world, and the $75,000 a year Colonel Knox pays himself is a small part of his earnings. Mind you, we are not supporting Colonel Knox for President. He is a Republican, and we Mississippians are inherently Democrats. But worse things could happen to this country than the election of Frank Knox as its president.

IT'S A JOKE

(Houston, (Miss.) Post)

MISSISSIPPI'S new corrupt act, passed by the Governor extra session of the legislature says that when a candidate is attacked in a newspaper article by his opponent, newspaper publishing same must give FREE space to the attacked party to answer the charges. These may not be the exact words of the act, but it is the meaning. That's a joke.

Does the lawyer who wrote the act mean to say that a newspaper editor can be forced by

KEEPING UP WITH WORLD

(Clarksdale Register)

JOHN SMITH, 70-year-old Coahoma county negro, pardoned by Governor Conner after he had served 20 years at Parchman of a life sentence for murder, went back to prison and said to Manager Tann:

"I've come back to stay boss. I don't like it out in the free world."

The world had grown up around Smith in his two decades at prison and it was stranger beyond those walls than within the prison gates.

Too many persons, growing old—and sometimes the young—are like Smith. They don't keep up with the world and hence it is a strange place in which to live. For them stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage; those walls are built by their own minds and their own emotions in their momentary reactions.

It is not right to let the world build a wall around one. Get into the march of things. It's a right good world, after all.

There is fun in it if you will grow with the world; if you refuse to stand still, but grow.

Keep moving with the world. That's the ticket that takes you somewhere on schedule time.

WOULD YOU STRIKE?

(Jackson News)

EMPLOYEES of the Mobile & Ohio Railway—ten labor unions involved—are voting on a proposal to stage a strike unless the wages of 1932 is restored.

Most of us would like to go back to wage scales of 1932. We would like still better to go back to the wage scale of 1928. The Mobile & Ohio is in the hands of receivers. It looks like it is destined to stay in the hands of receivers for a long time. It has not paid a nickel to its stockholders since depression set in. Its stocks is a drug on the market.

Don't you think a strike would be absurd under such circumstances?

M. & O. employees had better stick to their jobs and be grateful that they can look forward to pay days:

law to publish something free, or even paid, matter, that he does not wish to publish? If so, that lawyer did not study law when he went to college, but spent his time sucking his thumbs and reading dime novels.

Perhaps, it might work to the good of the newspaper, as it is, for the editor would have the right to refuse publication of any political attacks by one candidate on another, and cut down to zero the free space asked by the numerous candidates.

Anyway, the newspapers of the state know, their constitutional rights and also know that passages of the corrupt practice act infringe on the rights of a free press.

Some pictures have their titles changed a half dozen times before the final decision on the best one is made. Irving Thalberg and Pandro Berman are producers who believe in selecting a good name at the beginning of production and sticking to it. Librarians say that the kind of movies determine to a great extent the public's taste in books. When "David Copperfield" was released in Cleveland the public library had to increase its copies from 118 to 250, the demand for it was so great.

"Three Live Ghosts" has recently been pre-viewed in Hollywood. Richard Arlen, Claude Allister and Charles McNaughton plays the parts of three returned soldiers who have been listed as dead. Seeking Back Issues

Never write an editor asking him to send you a back issue of the paper unless you can give the specific date, no matter how interesting may be some article that appeared therein.

Editors often receive letters of this sort, the issue being referred to as "some time ago," "several months ago," or "several years ago."

That's quite too indefinite. It would take an office clerk several weeks to locate an issue so vaguely described.

Few editors can recall the caption of single editorial written during the previous week.

Also bear in mind that when asking for back issues, enclose the price plus postage.—Jackson News.

Work on the budget continues but final figures are problematical. Relief will probably take more than a billion dollars and if the Supreme Court upsets the AAA processing taxes, some provision must be made for payments to farmers.

(For the Sea Coast Echo)

SUBSTITUTE FOR AAA

At the recent meeting of farm leaders from all over the country here in Washington a proposed substitute for AAA was agreed upon, and the plan is to receive the backing of the Administration.

Principal feature of the plan is the leasing by the government of land for soil conservation and the prevention of erosion. The land thus leased will be taken out of production, and the cotton or wheat acreage, as the case may be, will be reduced thereby. In practice it will accomplish the same thing as the AAA, the difference between the two plans being that, instead of paying the farmer a bounty simply for keeping his land out of cultivation, a rental will be paid him for turning over his land for soil conservation work. The program, according to its proponents, would accomplish a two-fold benefit: (1) it would reduce cotton and wheat acreage and (2) would conserve and build up the land.

An earnest effort is being made to work out some plan that will hold the gains that resulted from the AAA, and I am hoping that a program that will be satisfactory will result.

EARLY BOND BONUS BILL

SENATOR Harrison, along with Senators Byrns, Clark and Siewer, introduced in the Senate a bill to pay the adjusted service certificates by means of baby bonds, so-called because they will be in small denominations. By the time this appears in print the bill will no doubt have been adopted by the Senate and accepted by the House as a substitute for its bill, which simply authorized the Treasury to pay the certificates without providing for any specific way. It is generally conceded that the bill will pass even in the event of a Presidential veto. Under the bill veterans will swap their certificates for these small bonds, which can be cashed at any time at any postoffice or, if held, will draw 3 per cent interest.

NEUTRALITY

THE text of a very large percentage of the news stories recently filed in Washington has been neutrality, and much more will be heard of it as the session continues. The key-note was struck by the President in his opening address to Congress when he devoted almost half of his time to a state-manlike discussion of foreign affairs. It has been echoed in the investigation of the munitions industry by a subcommittee of the Senate, which is designed to lay the groundwork for neutrality legislation to be introduced later. It is likely that the legislation introduced will be very stringent, prohibiting loans to and limiting trade with belligerent nations.

There is considerable disagreement over the exact provisions of the bill, but this Congress will enact some law to safeguard America against becoming embroiled in some possible foreign conflict.

"So Red The Rose" Romantic Spectacle

"So Red The Rose," Paramount's stirring adaptation of Stark Young's novel of the same name, will be at A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday nights. Margaret Sullivan is the star, and the supporting cast includes such well known names as Walter Connolly, Randolph Scott, Janet Beecher, Elizabeth Patterson, Harry Ellerbe, and the child actor, Dickie Moore.

"So Red The Rose" is a story of our South, a romantic and poignant account of those turbulent days of the War between the States. More than that, it reveals the ideals and hopes and bravery of a gentle Southern family when the clarion call of strife made men and women array themselves on the side of duty, sure of the righteousness of their cause.

It is the story of a young girl's love for a man, a man who hesitates to answer the fighting call of his people, and who, in his efforts to do what he believes is right, is even willing to sacrifice love on the altar of his beliefs.

Margaret Sullivan is the girl, Vallette, a pretty, vivacious belle of the South. It is a role delicately in tune with Miss Sullivan's sublimely gifted as an actress and she brings to her portrayal the artistry that has distinguished her work on stage and screen.

The boy, Duncan, is portrayed by Randolph Scott, a handsome and talented actor who in "So Red The Rose" forsakes his "western" characterizations which have won him fame and proves his versatility as an actor.

Walter Connolly, one of the foremost character actors of our day, is splendid as Vallette's father, and Janet Beecher, Harry Ellerbe and Elizabeth Patterson (in one of her bit parts) do well in parts that give background and authenticity to the story.

The direction of King Vidor ranks high among his many works remembered by picture audiences. For "So Red The Rose" gives forth the full flavor of Stark Young's nostalgic and romantic novel, capturing completely the spirit, movement and feeling that made "So Red The Rose" one of last year's most important contributions to American fiction.

PRESIDENT APPROVES

The President has approved the suggestion that 70 per cent of the proceeds raised by each local Birthday Ball be retained in the community to be disbursed to local or adjacent orthopedic hospitals, or for the treatment of local infantile paralysis cripples, as each local committee decides. This allotment was first made last year; the plan worked well and has been approved throughout the country. Thirty per cent of the proceeds will be turned over to the National Committee for delivery to the President to be presented by him to the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation for the continuation and extension of its part in the national fight against infantile paralysis.

WIPES OUT DEFICIT

The Democratic party, receiving $200,000 in cash from Philadelphia for the convention and a similar return from the Jackson Day dinners will be about enough to wipe out the deficit of around $400,000 incurred by Al Smith and his managers in the 1928 campaign.

A DIALOG

Said the Grand Old Party Jumbo
To the Alphabetical Ass:
"All your Democratic New Deal
Is a lot of sassafas."

"We have buried your Blue Eagle.
Not a feather now survives.
We have tripped your Triple A, too
Though it may have other lives."

"Watch us smash your Bankhead statute,
Wash your Wagner bill away,
Squelch your Social Legislation,
Toss aside your T. V. A."

"F. D. R. is marked for slaughter
When the votes are in the vat,
Be it Landon, Knox or Borah,
Be it any plutocrat."

"Be it even Herbert Hoover—
He's the real Forgotten Man—
Anybody, but a spendthrift
With a billion-dollar plan."

"Dear old Democratic Donkey,
Flopp your ears and tuck your tail.
You have lost your hind-leg terror,
Not a bray will now avail."

Said the Donkey, slyly nodding
At the boodle in the bags:
"Sniff these billions for the farmers
And the other folks in rags."

"All your gaunt and gray-haired judges,
All your multi-millionaires,
All your favored sons of fortune
With their stocks and bonds and shares,

"All of those whose sires have faded
On the sweat and honest toil,
Cannot daunt us nor defeat us,
Cannot make us now recoil."

"T. N. T. is in my hind-leg,
F. D. R. is on my back.
God Almighty, too, is with us.
Jumbo, pack your trunk and pack."

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

ALL children like home-made cooking and even the grown-ups will be carried back to their childhood days when the old-fashioned cookie jar was never empty. The spicy ginger man is always a favorite, as well as the brown drop chocolate ones, also the twisted bow-knots, hearts and stars never fail to bring joy to the little ones. Go to the dime store and select your favorite cookie cutters. Make a batch of cookies and see how fast they go. The following recipes are general favorites.

Sugar Cookies

Cream ½ cup of shortening with 1 cup of granulated sugar; add 2 eggs unbeaten and ¼ cup of milk. Beat well, then stir in 2 cups of flour with 1 teaspoon of baking powder and a pinch of salt. Flavor with ½ teaspoon of nut-meg or ½ teaspoon vanilla. This dough may be packed in a bread pan and chilled overnight, then sliced very thin and baked in an oven 400 degrees. It may be dropped from the end of a teaspoon onto a buttered baking sheet or it may be rolled very thin and cut in fancy shapes.

Chocolate Cookies

1 cup brown sugar
¼ cup butter
4 tablespoons cocoa
2 eggs
¼ cup nuts
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon soda
½ cup sour milk
1 3-4 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder

Mix and drop on a greased baking sheet. Bake in an oven 375 degrees for 10 minutes.

Fruit Cookies

Put through the food chopper; 1 cup of washed seedless raisins; ½ cup of shredded coconut, ¼ cup of citron and 3-4 cup of nuts. Cream ½ cup of sugar and ½ cup of shortening. Add 2 egg yolks, 2-3 cup of undiluted evaporated milk. Add the chopped fruit and nuts, beat until mixture is smooth. Add 1 3-4 cups flour sifted with ½ teaspoon of baking powder, ¼ teaspoon of salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla and 1 tablespoon of fine fresh cut orange peel. Fold in 2 egg whites beaten stiff. Drop the mixture from a teaspoon in mounds on a well-greased baking sheet, well apart. Top some with raisins, some with nuts and some with shredded coconut. Bake 10 minutes in an oven 375 degrees.

Oatmeal Cookies

1 cup shortening
2 eggs
4 tablespoons milk
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1 cup sugar
1 cup raisins
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt

Mix well and drop on a greased baking sheet. Bake 12 minutes in an oven 375 degrees.

Molasses Cookies

Put ½ cup of molasses and ½ cup of shortening into a saucepan large enough to serve as a mixing bowl. Heat until the shortening is melted. Remove from the fire. When cool add 1 unbeaten egg. Mix an dsift ½ cup of sugar, 2½ cups of flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon each of soda, ginger, cloves and cinnamon. Shape into a roll and wrap in heavy waxed paper, place in refrigerator until hard. Remove the paper, place on a board and slice with a very sharp knife. Place on a baking sheet and bake 10 to 15 minutes in an oven 375 degrees.

English Vanilla Snaps

2 cups flour
1 cup butter
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons ginger

Medicated with ingredients of Vicks VapoRub VICKS COUGH DROP

1 cup cooking syrup
1 tablespoon vanilla

2 cups whole wheat flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup thin cream

KIPLING'S WORKS

Many of the poems and stories of Rudyard Kipling have been among the favorites of American readers for years, and some of his phrases have become virtually "household sayings."

Among his best known works are "The Recession," "The Jungle Book," "Barracks Room Ballads," "Kim," "Soldiers Three," "The Man Who Would Be King," "Without Benefit of Clergy," and "Captains Courageous."

Among frequently used quotations from Kipling are these: "You're a better man than I am, Gunga Din!" "The colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady are sisters under the skin." "East is east and west is west, and never the twain shall meet." "Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, lest we forget, lest we forget."

Picayune, Miss., Jan. 20.—Miss Mary Alice Pax Lee, daughter of Mrs. Alice Lee of Poplarville, and Perry Robert Saxon were married at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Otto Stewart, six miles east of Poplarville. The Rev. J. P. Culpepper, Baptist minister of Pearl River county, officiated, using the simple single-ring ceremony. Mrs. Stewart played the wedding march and nuptial music. The bride had as her only attendant her cousin, Mrs. Hilda Stewart of Poplarville. The bridegroom's best man was Ferris Tate of Picayune. Mr. and Mrs. Saxon left for a wedding trip to Jackson, Miss. "SO RED THE ROSE"
BIG MOVIE OF OLD
SOUTH TO SHOW HEREAt Local Theater Sunday
And Monday Nights—
Thrilling Romance Of War Time

Movie enthusiasts will be interested to hear that "So Red The Rose" will live again in the romantic old town of Natchez, Mississippi, scene of Stark Young's famous novel and Paramount screen success showing at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday nights, when the Natchez Garden Club holds its Fifth Annual Pilgrimage this Spring, March 27th, April 5th, inclusive.

During this period twenty-seven stately, oldworld mansions of the Antebellum South, so vividly pictured in Paramount's stirring screen-play, will be open to the public, and ladies in the hoopskirts and jewels of their ancestors will receive the thousands of enthusiastic Pilgrimage visitors, with old-fashioned Southern courtesy into the country of "So Red The Rose."

These famous, tall-columned houses of historic Natchez, used by

Mr. Young as the background of his thrilling and beautiful romance, are still in a wonderful state of preservation. Guests of the Natchez Pilgrimage may visit the very scenes where was enacted the drama of the Bedford family, and many wander through the halls of the stately Southern mansion where Valette and Duncan Bedford were finally married.

Above is a photograph of one of the famous Natchez mansions, shown on the Pilgrimage tours, in the "Country of So Red the Rose," where the old South still lives.

—Mr. H. W. Moore left Wednesday afternoon for Hattiesburg, to meet his father, Mr. B. D. Moore, Sr., enroute to Jackson and other points. Mr. B. D. Moore, Sr., was appointed by Gov. White on his official staff and participated in the inaugural ceremonies at Jackson Tuesday of this week.

—Miss Louise Heitzmann, who suffered a broken leg and sustained other serious injuries in an automobile accident near Gulfport last Saturday night a week ago, is reported doing as well as could be expected, reports her father. She is at the King's Daughters Hospital, Gulfport, receiving the best of attention. Mrs. Clark in the same accident, is also reported as doing as well as could be expected.

—It is unlawful to skate on the streets of the city of Bay St. Louis, says Mayor G. Y. Blaize, and particularly this law is enforced at or near the hospital in Carroll avenue. City Chief of Police Wm. T. Hobbs asks The Echo to also call attention of young people that it is forbidden not only to discharge firearms within the city limits but the use of pop guns and air rifles are strictly forbidden in the city. He will make arrests on sight of all users of air rifles, without further notice or ado.

—County Deputy Francis J. Bopp and force of tax collectors are unusually busy these days, collecting tax monies both for county and State, this the last month in which to pay before damages accrue. Mr. Bopp says collections easily average $2,000 per day and will increase as the dead line approaches with the end of January. With an added two mills levy on assessed valuations taxpayers find their tribute to county a little higher this year. But this slight increase is justified since it will tend to put Hancock county back on a cash basis in time discharging all delinquent and current obligations. No, Maria, the county is far from bankrupt. It's credit has never been seriously questioned.

Amusement Company
To Surrender Charter
To The State

At a meeting of directors and stockholders of the recently incorporated organization of the Bay-Waveland Amusement Company it was voted to dissolve and to surrender the charter to the State, the concern not to function further.

After reviewing the situation and following a thorough discussion it was revealed that sufficient funds would not be forthcoming to sufficiently finance the project to the extent originally proposed.

While a considerable amount of the stock had already been subscribed it was evident more time would be required to put the venture over than between now and early summer.

Plans for the pier were quite attractive, the restaurant built on the lines of a ship and every detail had been worked out to a nicety. However, funds were not immediately available and for the present the plan was dropped. Money paid in by stockholders will be immediately refunded, it was stated at the conclusion of the meeting.

St. Stanislaus Five
Triumphs Over St.
Aloysius, 35-13, Sunday

St. Stanislaus Rockchaws continued along their unbeaten path by winning from the St. Aloysius Panthers, 35-13, here Sunday afternoon.

During the first quarter the Rockchaws clicked repeatedly against the defense of the Panthers. Time after time the ball was taken away from the Panthers on dribbling. The half ended with the score, Stanislaus 17, Aloysius 3.

The third quarter was a duplicate of the first, with Rogers, Gerchow and Gonzales scoring heavily. The efforts of the Aloysius center, Saucier, to sink the ball underneath the goal caused several disputes between the Panther coach and the referees.

This was the fourth successive victory for the Rockchaws. They have beaten such teams as Dedeaux, Orange Grove, Sellers and Aloysius. Among the four best players were Sellers, class A champions last season and returned to play the Rockchaws this season with their team intact.

—With the arrival of Chief Engineer of Construction, L. R. Madison from federal headquarters, work on the Bay St. Louis postoffice building was resumed Monday morning. Excavating earth for placing foundations and making room for basement space was resumed receding ten feet from sidewalk line from original lines. Autos will drive and park on neutral grounds in front of the building. There will also be a street cut from Main to State streets, affording an inlet and outlet to the rear for mail vehicles and carriers.

—Mayor Blaize and City Commissioners have caused a new sign to be placed at head of State street, one way street, prohibiting autos and other vehicles from backing out in effort to turn. Frequent violations at this point have been the cause of several near accidents and the order not to back out is going to be strictly enforced by city police. This warning might save some one or more people embarrassment. It is also prohibited for cars to park in the space back of The Echo Bldg. This is private grounds for use of tenant and to so use it blocks the yard.

TO BE KING OF 'CARNIVAL'

Parties desirous of serving the Bay St. Louis Carnival and assisting the benefit, may apply to be king by written application, enclosing a check or its equivalent at no less than $25.00. The largest amount enclosed, according to the plan, will secure the kingship. The idea is not one of vanity or seeking place as it is one of helping the sisters of St. Joseph who are trying to pay off part of the heavy debt hanging over the new gym. The purpose is laudable. The cause one that will appeal to any gentleman wishing to assist. All communication will be held in strict confidence and should be addressed either to Mother Evelyn, superioress at the convent, or, to Mrs. M. Juden, chair-lady of the royal court.

PURPOSE OF BIRTHDAY BALL

The purpose of the Birthday ball for the President is to create, thru the direct help of the citizens of our country, funds with which to help victims of Infantile Paralysis and support research efforts to wipe out the disease itself.

Infantile Paralysis again stalked through the land this year, adding thousands of new victims to the several hundred thousand already crippled. The need of continued effort in their behalf is greater than ever, and once more the call is made to our fellow-countrymen to participate in this humanitarian work, which for the past two years they have aided so generously and with such outstanding credit to our nation.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt has again consented to lend his birthday, January 30th, 1936, for another nation-wide series of birthday balls for the benefit of these Infantile Paralysis sufferers.
